

AI Opportunities → Economic Impacts

11/11/2026

Today's Class

- 9-9:15: Reflection on AI Opportunities: Policing
- 9:15-9:50: Discussion AI Opportunities: Policing
- 9:50-10:00: Discussion Recap
- 10:00-10:20: Reflection on AI Opportunities: Healthcare
- 10:20-11:00: Discussion on AI Opportunities: Healthcare
- 11:00-11:10: Discussion Recap
- 11:15-11:30:Wrap up

Next week readings

Workplace Impacts

1. Zhang, Mingqiong Mike, et al. The rise of algorithmic management and implications for work and organisations. New Technology, Work and Employment 40.3 (2025): 659-671.
2. Christine P. Lee, Min Kyung Lee, and Bilge Mutlu. From Tool to Agent: How Worker Needs Reorganize Across the Agentic Roles of Workplace AI. HAI 2026.

Focus on how AI and algorithms are impacting workers data-to-day, including ”algorithmic management” and individuals’ experiences and interactions

Next week readings

Guest Lecture from Lindsay Raymond

- Assistant Professor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, joint between Economics, EECS and the Schwarzman College of Computing
- Research focus: the effects of digital technologies and artificial intelligence on labor markets, firms, and market competition

- Expected topic: Impacts of generative AI (coding agents) on software engineering employment